

Boston's North End: History with Organs on the Freedom Trail
Sunday, June 22, 2014

4:00 p.m.

St. Stephen's Church (Roman Catholic) – 1820s Boston organ, rebuilt by C.B. Fisk as Opus 53
401 Hanover Street, Boston

Welcome: Kathleen Adams & Lois Regestein

Organ Demonstration & Mini-Concert

Glass Armonica Demonstration: Vera Meyer (Glass Armonica by G. Finkenbeiner)

Organ & Glass Armonica Duet

4:45 p.m.

Paul Revere Mall

Between Old North Church and St. Stephen's Church, at the statue of Paul Revere

Change Ringing: Old North Ringers

Edes and Gill Colonial Print Shop (behind Old North Church): Printing demonstrations

5:15 p.m.

Old North Church (Christ Church Episcopal) – Organ by A. David Moore, Opus 20
193 Salem Street, Boston

Organ Demonstration & Mini-Concert: Libor Dudas, music director, Old North Church

6:00 p.m.

Adjourn

Make a night of it by dining in one of the North End's fabulous Italian restaurants!

Getting to the North End by T (subway):

Take Orange Line in Oak Grove direction to Haymarket Station or North Station

Take the Green Line to Haymarket Station or North Station

Getting to the North End by foot:

Walk the Freedom Trail from the Boston Common downtown

For more information, contact Kathleen Adams at kathleenadams@cbfisk.com.